Flame & Flavor

Step inside Wynwood's new Asian smokehouse, Shiso, blending bold flavors with a vibrant dining experience.

by ZOE DAHAN

Wynwood's dining scene is heating up as Shiso—the upscale Asian smokehouse—arrives and offers a fusion of tradition, mixology and food. Led by award-winning chef Raheem Sealy, Shiso's menu fuses Caribbean soul, Japanese precision and fire-kissed techniques reminiscent of Sealy's culinary journey. Through a boundary-pushing technique, Sealy incorporates various taste pairings, such as the Uni Toro Handroll and Scallop Nigiri, Shiso Chicken Please—a Cornish hen served two ways, the Oxtail Gunkan—smoked barbecue oxtail layered—all showcasing his passion and culinary skills. Exuding urban-meets-refined charm, the space balances industrial elements with artistic flair—graffiti-adorned beams stand alongside an illuminated quartz bar, while a rooftop lounge offers skyline views complete with an open kitchen for a culinary viewing experience, setting the stage for a lively night out on the town. 239 NW 28th St., Miami, @shisomiami
